About Washburn

Washburn University was established in 1865 as Lincoln College by a charter issued by the state of Kansas and the General Association of Congregational Ministers and Churches of Kansas. In 1868, the school was renamed Washburn College, in recognition of a $25,000 donation by Ichabod Washburn, a church deacon and resident of Worcester, Mass.

In 1966, a tornado struck Topeka and several historic buildings on campus were demolished. The Washburn community rallied and financial support from friends and alumni made possible the rebuilding of many school facilities during the coming years. Today, university facilities offer more than one million square feet of modern academic, activity and support space.

In 1941, the citizens of Topeka endorsed Washburn by voting to establish a municipal university, supported in part by the city and governed by a local board of regents. In 1999, the university primary funding was moved from the city property tax to county sales tax sources, with the school retaining status as a municipal subdivision of the state. In addition to local financial support.

Washburn has received state funds since 1961, which have been coordinated by the Kansas Board of Regents since 1991.

Washburn is governed by a nine-member Board of Regents. Washburn provides broadly-based liberal arts and professional education through more than 190 certificate, associate, baccalaureate, master's and juris doctor programs through the College of Arts and Sciences and the Schools of Law, Business, Nursing and Applied Studies. Ninety percent of the faculty hold a doctorate of the highest degree available in their discipline. Individual attention is a priority at Washburn, with a student to faculty ratio of 18 to 1.

Dr. Jerry Farley University President

In 1997, Jerry Farley became the 14th President of Washburn University following an extensive career in finance and business affairs at several other higher education institutions. Previously Dr.

Farley held positions as the Vice President of Community Relations and Economic Development and Vice President for Administration at the University of Oklahoma where he was the Chief Fiscal responsible for a budget of more than one half billion dollars. He was also the Chief Financial Officer at the University of Oklahoma's Health Sciences Center and at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater.

Dr. Farley holds a degree in finance and accounting, an MBA, and a Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration - all from the University of Oklahoma. He is a C.P.A. and has been the president and chair of the board of several state and national professional organizations. He has authored or co-authored numerous articles and book on finance and accounting.

Serving on local and state boards has always been a priority for Dr. Farley. He is the current president of the Topeka Chamber of Commerce. He previously served on the Red Cross, American Cancer Society, United Way and economic development corporations including Go Topeka. He is the recipient of numerous awards for outstanding contributions in public service, accounting, and higher education.

Lady Blues

After missing the NCAA playoffs for the first time since the 1995 season, the Lady Blues are on a mission to return to the postseason.

The Lady Blues return five of their top six singles players from last season who finished a combined 70-41 in singles play. Junior Erin Underwood moves up from the No. 2 spot after Aisha Butt's graduation. Underwood was 14-8 at No. 2 hole and finished the fall schedule 4-0 in dual matches.

Also returning are juniors Caitlin Day, Lindsay Sullivan and Holly Munro as well as sophomore Kris Castillo.

Day was 14-9 at No. 3 singles and was a finalist in the MIAA Tournament. Sullivan was 16-8 at No. 4 and was also a finalist in the conference tournament. Munro won the No. 5 tournament finishing the season 10-8 and Castillo finished third winning the consolation bracket.

"We are going to rely on our experience at the top this season without any seniors on the roster," head coach Jennifer Hastert said. "The girls have been through the season two times now and they will know what to expect."

Newcomers to the team include Katie Schmidt who finished the fall season 1-1 at No. 3 singles and 2-1 at the ITA Midwest Regional Tournament.

Ichabods

The Ichabods went 2-0 in the fall portion of the schedule and a combine 17-8 in singles matches. Junior newcomer Sydney Bwalya has settled into the No. 1 spot on the roster replacing current assistant coach Fernando Sierra. Bwalya finished the fall slate 5-1 including a semi-final in the ITA Midwest Regional Tournament. Another transfer, sophomore John Johnson from West Florida, will man the No. 2 singles spot Rafeal Valdez, one of two top six returners, was a perfect 2-0 at No. 3 singles. Last season, Valdez was 10-4 at No. 2 singles.

Fellow returner Nate Hurd was 7-4 at No. 5 singles last season, finishing second at the MIAA Tournament.

Other newcomers include Brett Coleman, Blake Edwards and Tyler

Kinder.

"We're excited about the season," Hastert said. "Our top three singles players are all regional ranked following the fall season and we want to carry that momentum over to the spring season."

Changes are coming

This season will be the first time for the conference tournament to move to a dual match format instead of the tallying of team points depending on individual performances. This will be like how the NCAA regional tournaments have been decided with the first team winning five matches advancing to the next round.

The Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association, a 10-member conference of NCAA Division II institutions in Missouri and Kansas, was first organized in 1912 as the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Over the past 15 years, the league has undergone several changes, highlighted by expansion and increased participation in national championships.

The MIAA has gained the reputation of being one of the top NCAA Division II conferences in the nation. MIAA student-athletes have won nine national championships and more than 98 individual national titles.

The MIAA currently conducts conference championships in nine men's and seven women's sports. Men's champions are crowned in football, cross country, soccer, basketball, indoor and outdoor track and field, baseball, tennis, and golf. Women's champions are determined in volleyball, cross country, basketball, indoor and outdoor track and field, soccer, softball and tennis.

Ralph McFillen was named to succeed Ken B. Jones as commissioner of the MIAA in 1997. He formerly served as commissioner of the Metro and Gulf South conferences.

Matt Newbery, formerly an assistant sports information director at Pittsburg State University, joined the conference in 1994 as director of sports information.
