Join Us For Lectures, Book Signings, Holiday Fun, New Exhibits, and a Timely Issues Conference

Nixon Library offers plenty to do all summer

Grab your calendar and a pencil, and start filling in lazy summer days with these special events:

, former White House aide to President Nixon, appears in a two-part series on the History Channel's free wheeling TV talk show, History Center, taking on professional Nixon critics Stanley Kutler and Timothy Naftali of the Miller Center. We can't vouch for the show, particularly with the theme, "Nixon: The Good, Bad and Ugly," but we know Pat Buchanan will fight the good fight.

, columnist, TV commentator and former speechwriter for First Lady Nancy Reagan, discusses and signs her latest bestseller,

. Lecture tickets: $8 (Members $6)

Air Force Colonel , returns for a one-hour autograph party to sign his national bestseller,

. Later, he'll address the "30 Years of Freedom" anniversary reunion of the brave American's who were POWs in Vietnam.

Bring the family to celebrate . Enjoy apple pie if you're among the first 50 guests, shake hands with (well, yes, it's really an actor portraying America's first President, but you'll think it's the real thing), hear and sign the Declaration of Independence, smell the roses in the First Lady's Gardens, stroll through the farmhouse where America's 37th President was born, enjoy BBQ by the Boy Scouts, and thrill to the youthful voices of The Singing Angels of Cleveland, Ohio. This group is so talented and patriotic President Nixon invited them to the White House.

Bush speechwriter discusses and signs,

. On the New York Times bestseller list for months, it's the first insider's look inside the Bush presidency. Frum discusses the President's virtues of decency, honesty, rectitude, courage, tenacity, sincerity, and "large and clear" vision. Lecture tickets: $8 (Members $6)

 Opening of the Library's 62nd special exhibition,

Friday, July 04, 2003 America Online: AArtFletch

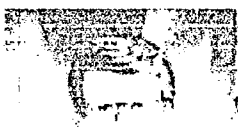

, telling the story of the conflict with special emphasis on the work Americans and Koreans did side by side in fighting, and often dying, for freedom. Features include original props from television's M*A*S*H set, on loan from the Smithsonian, plus personal memorabilia and keepsakes from veterans and their families.

keynotes a Nixon Library Issues Conference, Crisis in Korea, exploring the Korean war, what circumstances brought us to the current crisis and how the U.S. can best use its influence to bring about a positive outcome for American interests. A morning panel will include policy experts from government, Washington think tanks, and universities. General Haig will speak at luncheon.

Conference tickets: $45 including lunch.

You're invited to step back in time for a stunning musical stage show of style, presenting dazzling fashions worn by celebrity movie stars in the blockbuster hits of the '50s. Meet , lovely star of movies and television, and , whose experiences as the first female cruise director inspired the long-running TV show, The Love Boat. Plus a White House luncheon featuring menu selections chosen by Pat Nixon for Senora de Batlle Berres, First Lady of Uruguay in 1955. Tickets: $50 including fashion revue, VIP program and luncheon.

, former speechwriter to President Ronald Reagan, discusses and signs . He worked steps from the Oval Office for six years watching the President's every move, absorbing not only his political positions but his manner and personality. "The longer I studied Ronald Reagan, the more lessons I learned," writes Robinson, who discusses ten of these life lessons. Lecture tickets: $8 (Members $6)

Longtime Reagan advisor, friend and administration official discusses and signs

, a breathtaking look at the Western White House, Rancho del Cielo, in Santa Barbara. It's full of warm and untold stories of how President and Mrs. Reagan discovered this beautiful mountain retreat and enjoyed many days enjoying its private serenity together.

Lecture tickets: $8 (Members $6)

Bring the family to celebrate . Enjoy classic cars from the '50s, talented performers from Suzanne's Dance Factory reliving the rhythms of that memorable and carefree era, marathon swing dancing, plus hamburgers and chili dogs sold by the Boy Scouts.

ONLY BOOKS PURCHASED IN THE MUSEUM STORE WILL BE SIGNED AT LIBRARY LECTURES.
