Mr. President:

The Honorable Arthur A. Fletcher, Assistant Secretary of Labor, delivered an excellent message at the Arkansas Governor's Prayer Breakfast Wednesday morning at Little Rock. Mr. Fletcher is certainly an able speaker, and the message he brought to this particular group was certainly straightforward and extremely timely.

I am certainly pleased and proud to know that we have able men such as Arthur Fletcher in Washington helping solve some of our tremendous problems at this time. You are to be commended for his selection for this particular assignment.

May God bless you and the other leaders in your Cabinet during this particularly trying time in our nation's history.

Respectfully yours,

R. W. Wygle
President

I was so pleased to see you after all these years. I hope you will plan on making a visit to our campus when you get back to Arkansas.
