

Blind Siding America's UN Advisories

Re; the attached picture of me and president Nixon and letters from him addressed to me indicating the assistance I gave him concerning domestic policy during his first administration 1969 to 72.

Blind Siding America's Advisories, That's what the title of this writing should be if it were written as a op-ed piece.

As is evident the picture is a shot of the President and myself in the oval room. He had sent for me to visit his office to ask if I would be willing to join the American Delegation to the 26th session of the United Nation's General Assembly.

The letters about the advice I gave him regarding his administration's education policy, the one about the response I got after delivering a speech in Little Rock Arkansas plus the hand written note he sent to me congratulating me for being appointed the Chairman of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, provides a hint of the respect he had for, my contribution to his administration and the nation as a whole as well.

Now comes a word about the speech I wrote and delivered before that General Assembly's III Committee, which was concerned with the Elimination of all forms of Racial Discrimination.

As far as our UN allies were concerned America's record in managing the country's race problem was a measurable failure, and as to the communist, socialist and so-called non-aligned block combined approximately measured against the promises of the constitution and the Bill of Rights, America's record on the race relations front was absolutely indefensible.

Yet I a African American., a member of the GOP, the party that was assumed to have a horrible record on racial matters was bad enough in its self. However to add insult to injury, I was functioning in a GOP Administration, headed by Richard -----Nixon, a President who was supposed to be Anti-Black from the top of his head to ----of his feet. But that wasn't all.

The attitude of our UN adversaries was simply this; Of all people, I, a Black American, had the nerve to represent my country, the United States of America, before this world renown august body consisting of fare minded world leaders of America sincerity regarding equality for all people.

To do this on the heels, of a rash of race riots, that swept the country; senseless violence that had resulted in burn out and destroying African American neighborhoods in 60 cities throughout the country. Raw gut race riots, that had sweep that country and in doing so had pitted the nation's White dominated, anti-black law enforcement community against hopeless, defenseless Blacks in practically ever state in the union.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the success of any business and for the protection of the interests of all parties involved. The document also highlights the need for transparency and accountability in all financial dealings.

The second part of the document provides a detailed overview of the company's financial performance over the past year. It includes a comprehensive analysis of the company's revenue, expenses, and profit margins. The document also discusses the company's financial position and its ability to meet its obligations. The information presented is intended to provide a clear and concise summary of the company's financial health.

The third part of the document outlines the company's financial strategy for the coming year. It details the company's goals and objectives and the steps it will take to achieve them. The document also discusses the company's risk management strategy and its plans for future growth. The information presented is intended to provide a clear and concise overview of the company's financial strategy.

The fourth part of the document provides a detailed overview of the company's financial performance over the past year. It includes a comprehensive analysis of the company's revenue, expenses, and profit margins. The document also discusses the company's financial position and its ability to meet its obligations. The information presented is intended to provide a clear and concise summary of the company's financial health.

The senseless race hate violence that the US, United Nation's adversaries have in mind extended from Washington, DC, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark, and New York City on the east Coast, to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Seattle on the West Coast, plus cities to numerous to mention in between.

These adversaries, where laying in wait, eager for me to make a rational case justifying America's approach to managing our race relations problem.

When I described the approach that America and implemented and gave a detailed account of the progress that had been made since the mid-1960s civil rights anti-discrimination legislation had become the law of the land our adversaries, and offered forecast the progress that would be made by 2000, they were not only august, they were ferrous.

The they that I am referring to is the Communist, Socialist and so-called, non-aligned Blocks that are voting members of the United Nation's General Assembly. At that time, 1971, combined, the latter comprised 60 % plus of the UN's voting delegates. With the aid of Soviet Russia's on shore intelligence agents, these adversaries were certain that they had the book on me.

Why? Because they knew that was the man who initiated the nation's Affirmative Action Enforcement Policy Movement. Therefore, the knew how un-popular that policy was

... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..

then and still is today, 33 years after the fact. Thus, they knew that I had been racked over the coals, the burning embers, if you will, for initiating that super controversial program.

Therefore these US adversaries expected me to be bitter over being assigned to serve as a member of the United States Delegation to the United Nation's General Assembly. They knew that I knew, that compared to the power that I exercised as a Assistant Secretary at the United States Department of labor being reduced to the level of being a member of that delegation was not only meaningless assignment but a put down if there was such a things. Therefore, they expected me to be bitter to say the least.

Thus, they assumed that I would be vulnerable to a surprise attack. They were convinced that if they surprised me, with a sneak attack they could painted me into a corner. And if the perfected their strategy. I would blow my cool and attack the country that I was there to represent. They relied on that tactic because previous African American Delegates to previous national forums had done just that. Turned on America for putting them in such a no win situation.

Incidentally not only did the members of our delegation expected me to perform as our adversaries expected me to, but permanent member's of the United States Mission to the united nation expected me behave accordingly.

Therefore, the research staff and the united States permanent mission to the United Nation, wrote a statement of me to give that I considered out of the question as well as ridicules. In fact I considered a apologist manifesto. In other words, the research staff that wrote the original statement that I was expected to deliver, amounted to apology for what appeared to them America's lack of progress, on the race relations front.

When I read it, I flat out refused to give it. In stead, I spent the week end writing the one attached to this document. On the morning that I was to deliver it, I gave a copy to the communication people so they could convert into several foreign lounges. At that point, I proceeded to the committee room in the United Nation's Headquarters Building, where I delivered it. When I finished, each of the above mentioned anti-American blocks were ferrous, From that point on, I was a marked man. Regardless of the policy issue being addressed, I was challenged to max on every word I uttered.

They weren't the only one's taken completely by surprise. George Bush, our Ambassador to the united nations, members of the United States Delegation to the 26th Session of the United nation's general Assembly, and the entire permanent staff at the US delegation were also.

The time was 1971, the occasion was immediately following massive racial unrest and violence throughout the entire country. The ink on the Civil Rights Legislation of the mid-60s was hardly dry yet. The country as a whole, and neither the Republican or Democrat Party had any idea, as to what they should do with a Black American, who could read, write, calculate, communicate, for himself, not to mention analyze, reason, think and apply sound judgment as well.

...the
... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..

... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..
... ..

Therefore, the sad truth is. by achieving the unexpected, as a sub-cabinet officer at the United States Department of Labor, and doing the same as a US Delegate to the United Nation's General Assembly I did the following: I flat out succeed in working myself out of a job.

In other words, I proved to be too qualified for the employment opportunities, available to a Black man in the private, public and independent sectors of our economy, on the one hand, and on the other totally unacceptable at levels that my education, experience and performance record proved that I was qualified to hold. In other words it was the early phases of the transition period and American wasn't ready for a qualified Black person to do his or her thing.

Why was that the case? Because, the time was the 70s, as opposed to the 90s, and the nation's major employers, simply wasn't ready to accept a Black American, who possessed with the capacity, to hold his own with the very best that the competition could offer.

My final word is this, thank God, I not only managed to survive, manage my anger, keep my senses about me, endure a endless stream of racist madness, and survive enough disappointments, because of racism, to fill a giant size ocean going oil tanker,