Republican Candidates To Speak

Four Republican candidates for state, county and district offices will speak at the first fall meeting of the 47th District Republican Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Sheraton-Renton Inn.

Art Fletcher, seeking the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor; Tom Forsythe, candidate for South District King County commissioner; Slade Gorton, unopposed for the Republican nomination for state attorney general; and Ray Sonnemann, candidate for representative from the 47th District, will be at the meeting, according to Dick Neglay, club president.
